Forecast For Wales
Issued by Met Office Exeter
at 0400 on Thursday 19 Aug 2021

++ Valid for broadcast between 0600 and 1800

Headline:
Daytime showers clear tonight for a brighter day tomorrow.

Today:
A cloudy start with fog possible near higher ground. Scattered showers develop throughout the day, some locally heavy and thundery, particularly in central and northern parts of the country. Maximum temperature 20 deg C (68 deg F).

Tonight:
Most daytime showers ease into the evening leaving a generally dry night. Remaining mostly cloudy with a little patchy drizzle possible. Mist and fog possible between breaks in cloud. Minimum temperature 13 deg C (55 deg F).

Friday:
Areas of patchy rain ease for a time, leaving a bright morning with sunny spells. Showers return towards the north in the afternoon, as cloud thickens once again. Maximum temperature 19 deg C (66 deg F).

Outlook for Saturday to Monday:
An unsettled weekend, with widespread, heavy rain on Saturday and further heavy thundery showers on Sunday. Becoming more settled into next week with some sunny spells possible on Monday.

(C) Crown Copyright 2021. Published by the Met Office.